WARN BRITAIN: MASSES BOMBINGS

Conscription Debate Opens In The Senate

Military Affairs Committee Chairman In Plea For Action

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Senator Holman (R-Ore.) said today opening debate on military conscription today that he had learned from authoritative military sources of imminent peril of the invasion of Alaska from the Pacific and the endangering of the entire Pacific slope.

Holman interjected his statement without amplification while Chairman Sheppard (D-Ill.) of the Senate military committee and others were discussing the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory military service bill, enactment of which Sheppard said is "a tragic necessity" because rearmament must be accomplished speedily.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(UP)—Senator Charles McNary (D-Ore.) today opened debate on the conscription bill, saying that the measure is necessary to meet the threat of "German-controlled nations."

McNary said that the bill would require the passage of the measure to end the "drift" of the nation's defense forces from the point of view of efficiency. American Ambassador to Belgium Recalled

Escapes

John Cudahy Is Reprimanded By State Dept.

For Press Interview In London On The Belgian Food Conditions

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(UP)—President Roosevelt today ordered John Cudahy, American ambassador to Belgium, recalled to the United States immediately for consultation. The announcement of this move was made by the state department. The order for his return to the United States coincided with a public rebuke to Cudahy by Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles for views expressed by Cudahy in a recent newspaper interview in London.

Welles said the interview was given in violation of standing instructions of the department of state and certain of the views expressed by the ambassador are not to be construed as representing the views of this government.

War-At-Glance

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The air war: Britain and Italy report Africa's greatest air battle yesterday over Libyan-Egyptian desert. British claim they destroyed 15 Italian planes, lost two. Italians admit loss of two say they downed five R.A.F. planes. Britons at home, warned of greater raids to come, told to "stay where you are" as both sides issue new figures on yesterday's air battle over Channel. British up their claim of 53 German planes downed to 69. Nazis jump theirs from 31 to 40 British downed.

Reports of Italian troop movements on Libyan-Egyptian frontier received calmly but leaves of Egyptian police officers and men canceled. Egypt maintains will to keep out of war unless attacked directly.

The Orient:
British remove Shanghai and north China troops for service elsewhere leaving 10,000 British subjects and $800,000,000 investments protected only by navy. Japanese "very pleased" with British decision.

Western hemisphere:
United States senate conscription advocates heartened by senate passage of bill allowing President to muster national guard and army reserves.

Federal Deficit This Year Over Five Billions

Secretary Of Treasury Urges An Excess Profits Tax

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(P)—Secretary Morgenthau, forecasting a $5,200,000,000 federal deficit this year, urged congress today to open another source of government revenue and provide a "better distribution" of defense costs by enacting an excess profits tax.

An eventual increase in the present $49,000,000 federal debt limit to permit more deficit financing was predicted by Morgenthau, while Daniel W. Bell, treasury undersecretary, said that at the present rate of defense expenditures it would be necessary to increase the limit by about $9,000,000,000 next summer unless new taxes were raised.

Appearing before a joint meeting of the house, ways and means committee and the senate finance committee, the treasury chief also proposed legislation because he said it would facilitate execution of defense contracts.

Face Heavy Expenditures
"The national defense program," Morgenthau said, "places upon us the duty of reconsidering certain features of the tax structure now in order to obtain a rapid expansion of production for defense and a better distribution of its cost to the taxpayer."

The excess profits tax has been estimated by experts to yield $300,000,000 to $500,000,000 a year. The treasury and budget bureau have calculated that, as of August 5, the treasury faced expenditures of more than $12,000,000,000 in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1941.

Morgenthau said: "Revenue estimates, he reported, totaled $5,367,000,000, including the new defense taxes enacted recently."

Green Attacks Cost Of State Government

Costs Illinois 200 Millions A Year, He Tells Momenze Crowd

Making his first appearance in Kankakee county as a candidate, Dwight H. Green, Republican nominee for governor of Illinois, received an enthusiastic reception yesterday afternoon at Momenze.

He delivered an address during the dedicatory exercises of the annual Momenze gladiolus festival which was attended by thousands of people from all over the county.

He was especially cheered for the statement, "I think I speak the mind of every red-blooded American when I say we do not want any third-term dictatorship in America."

When he had finished, hundreds pressed forward to the speaking platform. Many complimented him upon a fine speech, some asked for autographs and others contented themselves with handshaking.

Free Enterprise
Mr. Green told his audience that the gladiolus festival is "a real testimonial to the American way of life based on free enterprise, by which Americans on their own initiative can and do accomplish great things."

"Why do you suppose," he asked, "Americans have made greater contributions to their own nation, and to all the nations of the world, than the people of any other country?"

"It is because in the past they had freedom from dictatorship and government regimentation. They had the privilege of free thinking and free doing, which makes for opportunity and accomplishment."

The gubernatorial nominee pointed out that the people of the Momenze community needed no government supervision and direction to make their festival a success. The fact it is a success, he said, proves the value of free enterprise.

Emphasizing that the coming election is one of the most important in the history of this nation, Mr. Green said, "It is in fact a great crusade by Americans, Republicans, constitutional Democrats and independent voters."

These join in restoring and preserving our American way of life," he continued.

"We all realize when we make an analysis of what has been said, what has been done and what has been attempted by the Third Termers in Washington and Springfield, that the Republican party is the only existing agency by which the American way of life can be preserved."

Reviews Record
Mr. Green reviewed the record of the Third Termers for the past eight years—broken election promises, extravagance and mounting debt, higher taxes, attempts to dominate the courts, efforts to "purge" the nation's capital and even the Democracy.

Water Boils Over, Puts Out Burner, Causes Explosion

When a clothes boiler boiled over in the basement of the M. E. Carey residence at 621 South Evergreen avenue Thursday afternoon, the water put out the gas burner, but left the burner on.

When the gas collected sufficiently, it caused an explosion, spreading smoke through the house and burning some of the clothes. Firemen checked the blaze promptly.

They also made a run yesterday afternoon to the residence of Henry Essenburg, 295 South Dearborn avenue, where a defective smoke pipe from a coal heater used to warm water, permitted smoke to filter through the basement. Nothing caught fire.

U. A. Cote Enlarges Farm To 2,100 Acres

U. A. Cote, president of the St. Anne Brick & Tile company, has purchased a 600-acre tract adjoining the south his present 1,500-acre farm.

This makes a total of 2,100 acres which he will personally supervise, using all modern machinery and as feed for steers and hogs.

On the 600 acres will be installed a drainage and underground irrigation system connected with the other farm.

The transaction was handled by the St. Anne Realty company of Joliet and J. W. Parish of St. Anne.

Gladiolus Queens Greet G. O. P. Leaders

Conclude Inquest Into Drowning Of Pittwood Youth

Watseka, Aug. 9.—(RN Special)—A coroner's jury today decided that Wendell Trumble, 19, Pittwood farm youth, met his death by accidental drowning yesterday at Sweeney's bend in the Iroquois river near here.

The youth was a member of the Donovan high school band and basketball team and would have graduated next year.

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock Saturday morning from St. Martin church in Martinon and burial will be in Martinon cemetery.

Surviving besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Trumble, are brothers Francis of Donovan, Donald of Watseka, and sister Leona of Chicago.

Iroquois County Board Pays Bills

Watseka, Aug. 9.—(RN Special)—The Iroquois county board of supervisors yesterday voted to pay up all back hospital bills. These are for the months of April, May, June and July and amount to $4,921.53.

The board considered the need for installation of a new heating system for the courthouse and referred the matter to the building committee.

The matter of hiring a county physician was again laid over.

Land Battleships For The U. S. Army

Washington, Aug. 9.—(AP)—The army has decided to build monster land battleships like the 70-ton German tanks which are generally given much of the credit for breaking through French and Belgian fortifications.

The national defense commission has cleared a $5,689,725 contract with the Baldwin locomotive works at Philadelphia for the construction of heavy tanks.

Army officials refused today to disclose details of the order, but it was reported that the tanks would weigh in the neighborhood of 70 tons each and would carry 75-millimeter cannon, equivalent in size to the famous fast-firing French field gun.

Cost of carrying out the initial order will be high in view of the fact that much new machinery will have to be developed to turn out the parts. Estimates of the number of tanks which would be obtained under the first contract varied from 20 to 50. No date was given as to time deliveries could be made.

I. C. Official In A Critical Condition

Chicago, Aug. 9.—(UP)—Lawrence F. Downs, 68, chairman of the board of the Illinois Central railroad, was in critical condition today at the Illinois Central hospital.

He entered the hospital July 17 suffering from a general breakdown complicated by high blood pressure. Doctors said his condition was "very grave."

Downs has been in failing health for two years. He resigned as president of the road and was named board chairman in 1938.

Confession On His Lips As He Pays Penalty

Robert Burgunder Dies In Lethal Gas Chamber In Florence, Arizona

Florence, Ariz., Aug. 9.—(P)—Non-chalant Robert Burgunder went to his death in the lethal gas chamber at dawn today with a confession on his lips.

As he was being strapped to the wooden seat in the little white execution chamber of the Arizona penitentiary, Burgunder, chewing gum all the while, said:

"I admit the killings. I never tried to defend myself."

Then the steel door was slammed and the cyanide pellets dropped into a container of acid at the feet of the 23-year-old former college orator. As the wisps of blue fumes lifted upward, Burgunder breathed deeply. Without the convulsions of most executed men he died at 5:10 a. m., seven minutes after his entrance into the death chamber.

Crime In 1939
The youth was convicted of killing E. B. Peterson, who with Ellis M. Koury, was shot to death in the desert near here April 29, 1939.

The small room outside the gas chamber was jammed with a pushing crowd of witnesses trying to get a glimpse through the plate glass window behind which Bob was sitting.

Burgunder stared sardonically at them.

Burgunder's dramatic confession from the death chair came as a shock to the witnesses, for only last night he had flatly declared, "I will never discuss my case again."

Burgunder's last-minute confession supported his revelations last night to his closest friend, Johnnie Swearingen, a former college roommate, that his trial story of watching an accomplice kill the two bound men was a fictional presentation.

Award Contract To Repaint Church

Clyde Potter of Manteno has been awarded the contract to paint the Manteno Presbyterian church exterior.

Interior redecorating and remodeling has been completed.

Here's A "Honey" Of A Yarn About Manteno Village Board

Members of the Manteno village board have a sweet problem on their hands—how to get rid of a swarm of honey bees which have taken up residence in the village hall.

When board members arrived for their last meeting, they were greeted by the queen and her followers snugly lodged in the southeast corner of the building.

The bees were exceptionally friendly and anxious to get acquainted with the trustees, constantly buzzing around bushy heads and bald pates during the meeting.

Board members have no bees in their bonnets, however, and expect the honey-makers will soon be removed to less public places.

Probable Nazi Losses Placed At 60 Planes

Intensity Of Attacks Apparently Slackened Early Today

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
London, Aug. 9.—Germany paid with loss of at least 60 planes for yesterday's wholesale aerial assaults on British shores and shipping, the air ministry reported today, as Nazi air attacks continued.

In all the ministry said, 60 German planes were destroyed "and many others damaged." A toll of about one in seven of "some 400" Nazi raiders it counted in the raids—the greatest attack in British history.

A loss of 16 British planes was acknowledged, but the air ministry said three pilots counted previously as missing are reported safe now, two of them wounded.

Nazi Reports Differ
"The German high command asserted that British losses were 49 planes shot down near the Isle of Wight in the English channel and off the port of Dover. German losses, it said, were only 10 planes shot down and two which had to make forced landings."

An authoritative source said the German communiqué, reporting 12 merchant ships totaling 55,000 tons sunk in the forays, "multiplied by three" the British losses.

Contrary to the German report, this source said, the attacked convoy "contained no tanker nor, indeed, any ship approaching the tonnage figures for single ships given in the German claim," which mentioned an 8,000-ton tanker and two steamers of 5,000 and 4,000 tons.

Two German bombers were shot down today, one by anti-aircraft fire after it had bombed a north-east coastal town and the other by three Spitfires off the northeast coast. Three of the crew of the second Nazi plane were captured in a rubber boat.

Intensity Slackened
Although the intensity of the attacks apparently had slackened, the air ministry reported scattered raids throughout last night and today. It disclosed there had been "some damage and to property and some casualties, one of which was fatal," in southwest England.

Renewed bombardments of the strait of Dover, the Bristol channel, northwest England and the midlands also caused some damage and killed "some" persons. Casualties, however, were said to have been "few."

Seven persons were reported killed and 12 injured "in collapse of part of factory in the northwest."

The raids on Britain yesterday were almost simultaneous with the greatest air battle of the war so far over Libya.

According to the Italians, their planes outnumbered 16 to 27, shot down five British craft while losing only two themselves. The R.A.F. commander at Cairo said that the British, fighting two against one, bagged 15 Italian planes and only two of their own were missing.

The press warned that the Germans now may stage raids of 500 planes at a time.

I. C. Employees To Picnic Here Aug. 25

The first picnic of the Illinois Central Employees Service club will be held Sunday, Aug. 25, at Waterman park; it was announced today by Pay B. Jenkins, president of the club.

More than 300 employees and officials of the road are expected to bring their families and picnic lunches to the park. Joseph Bauer, chairman of the committee, has carded a softball game between the Kroehler Varsity and a Champaign club. Other games and amusements will be on the grounds.

Pass Tax Levy

While not fanning bees, the trustees passed the annual tax levy of $7,200, heard reports of Treasurer Francis Smith showing a total of $5,229.83 on hand, learned that $150 has been collected from licensing of pin ball machines and that the village's share of state motor fuel taxes is $225.

A proposal to draw an ordinance prohibiting tractors from being operated on black top streets was considered. Justice of the Peace Floyd Grimes assessed fines amounting to $89 last month, of which $64 was collected. Police Magistrate A. J. McNeil collected $5 of $70 assessed during that period.

Mystery In Attack On Airline Hostess Is Growing Deeper

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 9.—(UP)—What happened to the beautiful young stewardess of the luxurious plane high over the Tennessee mountains became more of a mystery today as postal authorities ordered the plane's mail inspected.

The order-plus a new disclosure gave the mystery a sinister cast. The man the girl slugged her from behind in search of the key to the baggage compartment, actually got into the compartment through the door from getting it. The compartment contained part of the ship's mail.

Postal Inspector Thomas Cotton today with the plane's passengers on to Los Angeles and soon after he arrived there, he ordered all mail that had been aboard the plane held up pending the completion of his investigation. He interrogated all the passengers, took their names and addresses, and permitted them to go their way. Some passengers, who left the plane here, had not been questioned, however.

Found Unconscious
Officials of American Airlines Inc., operators of the plane, had asserted that Stewardess Rosemary Griffith, 24, had been found unconscious in the women's lounge. They permitted no outsiders to talk to her in a local hospital, but

Timber Blazes Now Quenched By Blitzkrieg

Parachutists, Motorized Corps Cut Losses In The Northwest

Portland, Ore., Aug. 9.—(UP)—Modern methods of fighting that include parachutists, motorized troops, and the use of incendiary bombs, streamlined trucks and supply lines kept open by planes enabled the forest fire of 1940 to keep forest fires to a minimum despite the worst fire hazards this year in Pacific Northwest history.

Fire have blackened vast areas of the northwest at periodic intervals ever since David Douglas, Scotch settler, first started the Douglas fir named, referred to as the Douglas fir, in the early days of the settlement of the Northwest.

Forest fires frequently burned over 450,000 to 600,000 acres, took tolls of lives up to 100 persons and destroyed towns and villages.

An unprecedented fire period—45 days without rain—left northwest forests parched and, although several thousand fires were started through lightning and man-made causes, losses were kept to a minimum this summer.

Jumpers Are Introduced

Parachute jumpers were used successfully throughout Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana for the first time this year to drop incendiary bombs when one or two men can put them out where they spread best.

Lookouts are spotted throughout the forests to maintain vigil for the fire in a small, high speed airplane. The plane is equipped with a quick fire, which can be reached within a comparatively short time by a large group of men. The five pack mules is big in its scope, the fire is too big to handle, the fire quickly rush up reinforcements to the spot. Supplies are dropped to crews that must pack in with horse and mule to isolated areas. Transport planes are used to drop the supplies in large canisters packed with wood shavings.

It sometimes takes several days to get to the scene of the fire. To get to the scene of the fire, the fire is started by lightning in sections of the forests untouched by roads.

The modern "smoke-jumpers" read the scene of a small blaze and extinguish it before it has a chance to get started. They are at the fire a few minutes after the outbreak spots it.

Chutes Can Be Guided

A special parachute is used, about 20 feet in diameter, equipped with a guide line and sand flaps for steering. The jumper can land within from 50 to 200 yards of the desired spot. He is equipped with a rope to let himself down if he lands in a tree or a rocky ledge.

The parachutist is dressed in heavy garments made of strong duck, padded with thick wool. His face is protected by a heavy wire mask.

The pilot carrying the parachutist flies over the fire and drops a small burnup test chute with a bag of sand attached to test the wind direction. He then circles and drops the jumper.

The pilot circles again and drops packs containing tools, food, water, and other supplies. The fire fighting crew from the air can be supplied indefinitely in the same manner. The entire process takes only about 10 minutes.

A new method of fire bombing has led the spread of small fires with water bombs or bombs made of special chemicals also has been developed. These bombs are used to drench a tree struck by lightning.

The pilot carrying the parachutist flies over the fire and drops a small burnup test chute with a bag of sand attached to test the wind direction. He then circles and drops the jumper.

The pilot circles again and drops packs containing tools, food, water, and other supplies. The fire fighting crew from the air can be supplied indefinitely in the same manner. The entire process takes only about 10 minutes.

A new method of fire bombing has led the spread of small fires with water bombs or bombs made of special chemicals also has been developed. These bombs are used to drench a tree struck by lightning.

Caltrists Say Faith Will Cure Snake Bites

Portland, Ore., Aug. 9.—(UP)—Parachute jumpers were used successfully throughout Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana for the first time this year to drop incendiary bombs when one or two men can put them out where they spread best.

Lookouts are spotted throughout the forests to maintain vigil for the fire in a small, high speed airplane. The plane is equipped with a quick fire, which can be reached within a comparatively short time by a large group of men. The five pack mules is big in its scope, the fire is too big to handle, the fire quickly rush up reinforcements to the spot. Supplies are dropped to crews that must pack in with horse and mule to isolated areas. Transport planes are used to drop the supplies in large canisters packed with wood shavings.

It sometimes takes several days to get to the scene of the fire. To get to the scene of the fire, the fire is started by lightning in sections of the forests untouched by roads.

The modern "smoke-jumpers" read the scene of a small blaze and extinguish it before it has a chance to get started. They are at the fire a few minutes after the outbreak spots it.

Chutes Can Be Guided

A special parachute is used, about 20 feet in diameter, equipped with a guide line and sand flaps for steering. The jumper can land within from 50 to 200 yards of the desired spot. He is equipped with a rope to let himself down if he lands in a tree or a rocky ledge.

The parachutist is dressed in heavy garments made of strong duck, padded with thick wool. His face is protected by a heavy wire mask.

Says U. S. Family Does Not Carry Enough Insurance

Berkeley, Cal., Aug. 9.—(INS)—The average American family does not carry enough insurance to give real security in the event of the main breadwinner's retirement from employment.

That was a finding in a report made by the Heller committee for research in social economics following an intensive study of living costs in San Francisco for a variety of workers.

Other results of the studies included a finding that street-car men and clerks usually own automobiles, but that most of them were bought second hand and the average operating cost is less than $100 a year per car.

In regard to medical care, the report stated that it is impossible for the average family adequately to provide against the larger emergency of illness. The report said it stated that continuous medical service or occasional large doctor bills must be met by drastic economies elsewhere.

Nevertheless, the report found that the average family appears to have no dependents in normal times, other than the minor members of the family.

4-H Clubs Guests At Electrified Farm

Forty-five representatives of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, local 4-H groups and Farm Bureau units met yesterday at the Dickman farm near Hecla, Ill., where a demonstration was given showing how a rural farm can be completely run by electricity.

A. H. Schneider, division manager of the Public Service company, presided at the meeting and introduced various speakers who demonstrated the electric appliances. The Dickman farm is one of 20 electrified farms in northern Illinois where 4-H club boys and girls are given instruction in operating electrical appliances.

Uncle Sam's Pay Tempts Judges To Leave Their Jobs

Panama City, P. R., Aug. 9.—(INS)—Increased employment in the current labor boom of the adjacent American Canal Zone has become so lucrative that even the federal judges in the zone are forsaking their official jobs for better positions in the private sector.

According to information received by the Department of Government Affairs, many federal judges of interior villages are resigning from their jobs and hastening to the United States to accept eligibility employment cards with the Panama Canal Zone.

The Panamanian Supreme Court has been advised that the shortage of judges in interior towns has become serious with justices forsaking their $5,000 to $20,000 monthly positions for Canal Zone laboring jobs which pay from $50 to $100 monthly.

Returned Books Bring In Bacon, Money, Tickets

Cleveland, Aug. 9.—(INS)—What makes a handy bookmark is a question which Cleveland librarians are trying to settle with patience and understanding.

A returned copy of "Gone With the Wind" contained a slab of bacon as a page marker and brought in the following remark from Mrs. Helen Beatty, head of shelf division at public library.

"Our books come back bearing everything from sandwiches to actors. We've never received back a returned book before. It is in reality the peak of preoccupied reading."

Other items discovered in recently returned books include: Marriage licenses, four bank books, Cleveland railway stock, theater tickets, hair net, silk handkerchief, cork sumo-mono, two scissors, eight-half 10, 10 razor blades, 50 match books, six letters, three indorced checks, four $1 bills, lettuce leaf.

FISH-PARASITE INVADERS

NORTHERN GREAT LAKES

Lansing, Mich.—(UP)—Evidence has been found in the Great Lakes that the fish parasite, which has been found in the Great Lakes, which it entered through the Welland canal to Lake Erie in 1921. The lake lamprey attaches itself to larger fish and feeds on the blood of its victims. Lampreys cause the value of commercial fish and when abundant do extensive damage to fish populations.

Seventy-seven per cent were against doing so even if the country were invaded. Fourteen per cent would enlist in case of invasion, while 4 per cent said they were undecided. Fewer than 1 per cent asserted they would refuse to serve in any capacity.

Says Good Pilot Is Determined By Ability—Not Sex

Boston Aug. 9.—(INS)—Individual ability—and not sex—determines a good pilot. And at an altitude of 5,000 feet it makes no difference whether the pilot wears trousers or a petticoat.

These were sentiments expressed by Miss Helen Riches, 28, pretty flying instructor at East Boston Airport. The slim dark-haired girl is teaching ten undergraduates from Massachusetts Institute of Technology under sponsorship of the Civilian Aeronautics Authority.

Daughter of a former superintendent of schools in McKeon, Pa., Miss Riches learned to fly ten years ago and previously was a flying instructor at a flying club in Philadelphia.

During her ten years of flying, Miss Riches has logged 1,100 hours flying time. Since Dec. 1934 to Nov. 1935, the only woman co-pilot on a regular airline in America, working for Central Airlines on the Washington-Detroit run.

Flown America's length and breadth for nine months picking sites for air markers for the United States Government.

Orders Inquiry Into Handling Of Relief Funds
Brief Local News
State's Attorneys Of Every County Urged To Investigate
Springfield, Ill., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Attorney General John C. Cassady said today in a letter sent to all Illinois counties that investigators from his office had found a shocking state of mismanagement, fraud and official corruption in the local handling of relief funds.
The attorney general urged the local prosecutors to make "prompt, complete and thorough investigation of the local administration of public relief funds."
Public Funds Wasted
Cassady's office, which is in a recent investigation of relief administration in Williamson county, has found that in the last month for alleged relief funds, the state had expended $1,000,000. His letter said the investigation was being conducted by the state attorney general, and that he was not to be held responsible for any local by name. The letter said, in part:
"The facts show that public funds have been wasted, squandered or misappropriated."
"These disclosures have come from widely scattered sources, and are of such a similar in type that I believe it reasonable to wonder if the same conditions are going on in still other counties and remain to be exposed."
Prompt and thorough investigation is urged by the state attorney in every county.
Must Make Reports
"You are requested to make a valuable service to the entire public, the state government and the people of Illinois, by making your investigation, you will make a written report to the attorney general, setting forth the particulars and scope of your inquiry, the result of your investigation, and any other facts which may be of interest for corrective measures."

Furious Aerial Battle Above Egyptian Sands
African Combat Follows Closely Great Battle For Britain
The biggest air battle fought in Africa—a furious combat waged by British and Italian planes high over the burning sands of Egypt—was reported today by the British government. The battle was reported to have taken place on the night of August 8, when a number of British bombers were shot down by Italian fighters. The British government said that the battle was a part of the larger campaign to drive the Italians out of Egypt. The battle was described as being one of the most intense of the war.

Man Without A Country Seeks Citizenship
Trenton, N. J., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Samuel J. Alian, an Armenian, convicted slayer, told the court of pardons today that he could no longer endure the stigma of being a man without a country.
He asked the court for an unqualified pardon so that he could come a free resident of the United States. No other country again him, he said.
The case was unusual in that Alian, an Armenian, an American, had stood in the shadow of the electric chair for his crime, was granted a pardon in 1929 and after a long return to his native land, he had come to the United States to seek citizenship.
Alian, formerly a part of Turkey, is now in the Soviet Union. No one in the Soviet Union would give him and efforts to return to his native land in Turkey, Greece and other countries have failed.

Elizaberrn Hicks Wins Women's Golf Derby With A 314

Chicago, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Elizabeth Hicks, the Long Beach, Calif. newsmagazine writer, refused just a change to better her own western women's golf derby record, but she was quite willing to take the battle for a second straight victory.

Her early pace indicated she might lower the tournament's 72-hole mark of 307 she set last year. Victory was assured when she conceded at the start of yesterday's final 18 holes, since her 54-hole total of 230 was well below her nearest rival.

However, the champion, who on ran into trouble, at the same time previous rounds had shot 78-78-74, second place Elinor Williams of Chicago began firing sub-par golf and at the end of the third round the 18-stroke led by four. A seven on the 12th hole stopped her rush and eased the anxious Miss Hicks, who wound up the day with an 84 and

Filipinos View Quezon Draft As Certainty

Trained Leaders Lacking,
With None Likely To Develop Soon

Manila, Aug. 9.—(UP)—President Manuel L. Quezon seems destined to be the next chief executive of the Philippine Commonwealth, carried forward on the shoulders of an enthusiastic bloc of Nacionalista party supporters and a slightly bewildered Filipino electorate who look up to no other leader than the "man in Malacanang."

Carte-blanche to assume the presidential burdens in 1941 after his first six-year term expired was offered when Filipinos, by an overwhelming majority, voted a constitutional amendment to reduce the term of the chief executive from six to four years and permit successive reelection.

President Quezon consistently has reiterated his desire to retire, and possibly re-emerge as president again in 1946 when the Commonwealth severs its last ties with the United States.

"I am not a candidate," has been his favorite theme in speeches—but political observers have noted that Quezon has at no time said he would not run "if the people and the party" desire his reelection.

Party Draft Likely

There is no doubt that Quezon could and would be reelected if he throws his hat into the ring—but that hat must be propelled by others than Quezon himself. From all indications, the Nacionalista party is prepared to furnish the propelling force, by and with the consent of the majority of the Filipino voters.

The two decisive factors in the present political situation are the growing fear of Filipino leaders that the international situation demands an experienced hand at the helm during the next four years—preparatory years to Filipino independence, and the fact that President Quezon is really, if not in name, the government of the Commonwealth.

Most Filipino leaders believe that Quezon is the only public leader now who can do one of two things: Reach an agreement with the United States whereby American help of one type or another would be available in event the Philippines after independence is granted, should be attacked by a third power; or reach non-aggression agreements, including economic and political pacts, with these nations which not inconceivably eye the Philippines avaciously, in order to forestall possible aggression.

Wields Enormous Power
The second point, that President Quezon is in fact if not name the

Yes, Mr. Churchill, It's Real

Puffing away at his ever-present cigar, Prime Minister Winston Churchill gingerly touches a machine gun, which British sources said was American-made, as he made an inspection trip recently to England's government of the Commonwealth might be a subject of debate. But political observers point out that what the president wants he generally gets, and without too much trouble. Through his control of the Nacionalista party, which directly controls the assembly, Quezon wields enormous power in legislative affairs. He has almost dictatorial control over the sub-administrative groups in the Philippines, such as provincial governments and city councils.

With the wide range of powers granted him in the constitution and the popular appeal that he holds in the eyes of the Filipino people, this control over the actual government makes him by far the greatest single political force in the Commonwealth today.

Opposition leaders—and they are definitely in a minority—have charged him with dictatorial ambitions or inclinations. More charitable observers are of the opinion that he has gradually so concentrated executive and legislative powers in his own hands, and wielded this power to such effect, that other Filipino politicians are daunted by the possibility they might have to strike out on their own without his admittedly shrewd political counsel and advice.

Filipinos Like "Strong Man"
The Filipinos have a strong trace of the Latin tendency to "look up" to a "strong man," probably a throw-back to their Spanish heritage. The people as a whole have little if any realistic conception of the workings of democracy. The Commonwealth resembles in this case Germany of the Weimar Republic—lacking trained leaders to serve under democratic processes, and with the people lacking the democratic traditions and feelings which are built up in the course of decades, not years.

Because of this lack of trained leaders, President Quezon is believed by many observers to have been forced to consolidate power in his own hands—willingly or not is beside the point—and the result is that other Filipino leaders of high political caliber are noticeably lacking.

Science Finds Ally In War On Measles

Chicago, Aug. 9.—(INS)—Science, in its campaign against measles, a disease for which medicine has no specific cure and whose cause is not yet identified, has uncovered a strong ally, studies made by the Chicago Board of Health reveal.

The use of immune globulin, a protein fraction of the blood, provides an important reserve weapon in the fight against measles, the Health Board declared. Experiments involving the cases of 1,305 Chicago schoolchildren under 10 years of age, were reported in the last issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association by Dr. Herman N. Bundege, president of the board; Dr. William I. Fishbein, Dr. Irving R. Adams and Richard D. Miller.

Measles is stamped as one of the few epidemic diseases that has shown an increase over the years since the American cities began to practice preventive medicine. In Chicago, the disease increased from 15,132 cases in 1913 to 37,831 in 1938. However, in the same period, the death rate dropped from 12.4 per cent per 100,000 population to 1.1. There were 292 deaths in 1913 and 40 in 1938.

Doctors declare improved medical and nursing care, both for measles and the pneumonia that frequently follows, were greatly responsible for the decreases, cutting the number of deaths in 1929 to 168 in 17,714 cases. The use of convalescent serum—blood serum taken from persons who have recovered, has cut the rate to the present low figure.

Because blood serum is not always available, the Board of Health launched studies to determine if globulin would also serve.

During the last year globulin injections were given to 618 children who were exposed to measles. Of these, only 325, or 47.9 per cent developed the disease. In 293, or 90.1
